gist Smith, in which the statement is made that no examination fee had been received from Mr. Colinda and no application for examination was on file. When the field secretary came through Norfolk early this year Druggist Smith and Mr. Colinda took the matter up with him and showed him that the fee had been sent and the check cashed by the board in due form. It was then that the records were looked up and Mr. Colinda's statement found to be correct. He was then notified by the field secretary to be present.

about the statement of the board, Mr. Colinda declared its explanation unestisfactory, and he says that he does not believe it will satisfy the public that he has been fairly treated.

Mr. Colinda exhibited a letter from the field secretary, advising him that as he had not appeared for examination previously he should do so at the April meeting. He claims that unless he was qualified to take the examination the official should not have advised him to be in Richmond on the date in question.

Held Up for Two Years.

Mr. Colinda further declares that his application was held up in some way for two years or more. He could not get any information as to when the board would examine him. Finally he got his employer, Druggist Smith, to write the board. This was in July of 1908. Mr. Colinda exhibits a letter signed by Mr. Miller to Druggist Smith, in which the statement is made that no examination fee had been received from Mr. Colinda and
